

Consultations

Dr. Wilcox consults with patients and healthcare professionals in the United States , Canada and from around the world. Consultations may be in person, by telephone or over the internet. Some people have complex medical histories or health problems that have been difficult for their previous doctors to resolve. In such case, a two hour consultation may be necessary. Other times a quick 10 minute, follow-up consultation to review test results, may be all that is needed. Consultations may be scheduled for any length of time in 10 minute increments.
